

Landis+Gyr appoints Susanne Seitz new EVP EMEA

Zug, Switzerland, June 21, 2018 – Landis+Gyr (LAND.SW), a global leader in transforming the way energy is delivered and managed, announced today that Landis+Gyr's Board of Directors has appointed Susanne Seitz as the new Executive Vice President and Head of EMEA Region, and Member of the Group Executive Management of Landis+Gyr. Susanne succeeds Oliver Iltisberger who will leave the company at the end of June 2018.

Susanne Seitz, a Swiss citizen, holds an MSc in Environmental Engineering Technology from ETH Zurich and an Executive MBA from the University of St Gallen. She brings to the role more than 20 years of business experience in companies such as Ernst Basler + Partner AG, BT&T Asset Management and Siemens Building Technologies. She has a record of success in delivering results as a business unit leader, as well as developing and implementing profitable growth strategies. Thanks to her many years of operational business experience, customer orientation and strategic leadership Ms. Seitz has the necessary skills to further develop Landis+Gyr's customer-oriented products and solutions delivery as well as continue the transformation of the business model within the EMEA Region. The starting date in the new role will be confirmed in the coming weeks.
